

The Office - Small Talk 9 - Talking About The Weather

(C0331)

Melissa: Hey Michelle, jump in quick. It's pouring out there!

Michelle: Oh hi Melissa. Are you going to the conference too? I was planning to pick up Mr. Campbell.

Melissa: Yes, he told me. We need to pick him up at his hotel and then go to the conference.

Michelle: Oh I see, okay. So I heard you got married. Congratulations!

Melissa: Ah thank you! I'm very excited. We were going to get married next year, but then we decided to get married on holiday instead. It was wonderful.

Michelle: That sounds so romantic! Jack and I were hoping to get married in Europe next year, but we had to postpone our plans. We just don't have the money!

Melissa: I know what you mean. I think Shanghai is getting more and more expensive, don't you?

Michelle: I sure do. In my opinion it's actually becoming more expensive than back home.

Melissa: Definitely. Oh there's Mr. Campbell. Driver can you stop here please?

Key Vocabulary

pouring	V	flowing or falling, as from one container to another, or into, over, or on something romantic	A	relating to a feeling of love between a couple postpone	V	decide to do something at a later time definitely	R	certainly
in my opinion	P	way to express your opinion

Supplementary Vocabulary

raincheck	N	an offered or requested postponement of an invitation until a more convenient
cute	A	pleasingly pretty drizzle	V	to rain gently and steadily in fine drops
cancel	V	to decide or announce that a planned event will not take place